

Force Not the Way, Dulles Tells NATO

Reiterates U. S. Support of UN Settlement

Secretary Warns West to Maintain Military Strength

PARIS (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, in an indirect but forceful rebuke to Britain and France, told the 15-nation NATO council today the United States still believes force is not the way to solve world problems.

He reiterated United States support of United Nations settlement of all international disputes.

Dulles made his remarks in a 50-minute speech to the opening private session of the NATO group this morning. It was reported in outline afterward by a NATO spokesman.

While expressing his faith in moral force, Dulles warned the West it still must maintain its military strength. To further that end, informed sources said outside the council members that the United States was ready to pour more millions into Europe. The sources said the United States would offer Britain more millions to keep its military commitments to NATO.

Predicts Red Decay

Dulles pledged that, as far as the United States was concerned, past differences were considered as being useful only as a guide to the future.

He hopefully predicted that forces working on the Soviet Union ultimately would lead to the Communist citadel's decay.

He cited the disarray of Communist parties throughout the world, satellite unrest, and internal pressures inside the Soviet Union as the most important of those forces.

But he warned the situation created by those pressures brought dangers to the West along with them. The rulers of the Soviet, he warned, may take irresponsible external moves in answer to them.

He urged his allied partners to put their faith in the United Nations and a solid resolve to live up to its charter. He said it couldn't do everything—and shouldn't be expected to—but to destroy it would be disaster.

Italy's Foreign Minister Gaetano Martino warned the West to forget recent disputes like Suez and Cyprus and cooperate not only in the North Atlantic region but elsewhere, especially in the Middle East if it is to stand up to Soviet encroachment there.

Joy Shines in Faces of First Group Of 'Operation Safe Haven' Refugees

By H. D. QUIGG

United Press Staff Correspondent
ABOARD FIRST PLANE, Operation Safe Haven, Munich (AP)—They're going home for Christmas—this happy human cargo of refugees from Communist horror in Hungary.

Happy? You should see their faces. This is the season of joy to the world, and deep joy shines in the faces of this group of half a hundred men, women, and children.

Home, now, is America. And that's where we're bound. We'll be taking off in a few minutes in the first flight of "Operation Safe Haven" in which 15,000 Hungarian refugees will be taken by air and sea to the United States.

They've said goodbye to the fatherland. These refugees now are looking forward toward new free lives in a free country. They'll be home for Christmas—

Bowers Announces He Will Not Contest Election of Burroughs

Same Decision Also Revealed by Elmer M. Gibbons

Quentin Bowers today announced that he will not contest the election of James R. Burroughs as circuit clerk.

Bowers, Republican incumbent, was defeated by Burroughs, Democrat, by 60 votes in the Nov. 6 election according to the official canvass.

It also was learned that Elmer

M. Gibbons, Republican nominee defeated by James R. Thornton, Democrat, by a larger margin, decided a few days ago he did not wish to contest.

Bowers' decision was contained in a letter to Kenneth C. Capel, chairman of the Republican Central Committee of Saline County which had voted to back contests of the two offices financially.

"I wish to advise that my attorney and myself have made a thorough investigation as to whether or not we should file a contest . . . and as a result of our investigation, it is our determination that there are not sufficient irregularities in the tabulation of the votes by the different judges and clerks thru-out the county that would warrant me filing a contest for this office," the letter said, and continued:

"It is our opinion that we would not gain by filing such a contest and it would be a tremendous expense to both myself, the county and my opponent if such a contest was filed.

"It is further our opinion that all of the votes were counted fairly for both myself and my opponent. Therefore, I wish to advise you that there will not be any contest filed for this office."

Bowers' letter thanked the GOP Central committee and others for the interest taken in the matter.

Burroughs took over as circuit clerk Monday, Dec. 3. He served in this capacity previously, from 1948 to 1952.

SANTA'S HELPERS SAY:

11 shopping days to CHRISTMAS

Santa to Arrive Via Fire Truck Thursday Evening

Santa Claus is coming to Harrisburg Thursday evening of this week and all the children are invited to meet him. Santa will arrive at 6 p. m. on a fire truck and will give oranges and candy to the kiddies until around 7:30. Parents from all southeastern Illinois are invited to bring their children to see Santa Claus. He will be here regardless of rain, snow or sleet.

Parents who bring their children to town can also see what wonderful lines of Christmas merchandise are carried in the stores of Harrisburg, truly the shopping center of southeastern Illinois, because the stores will be open until eight o'clock. Stores also will remain open on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, Dec. 20, 21, and 22, for the benefit of late Christmas shoppers.

Uptown Harrisburg is decorated for the Christmas season with brightly colored lights strung across the streets and with four large lighted Christmas trees on the corners of the court house square.

Prettiest Christmas window display in town is the north window at Lloyd L. Parker's store, which is a masterpiece of pink and white. An angel child, wings fluttering, looks down on the artificial snow, birds and assorted pieces and branches, ice-covered and sparkling with small red lights form an appropriate background.

Honor Students Entertained at Rotary Meeting

Honor students from the Dorrisville grade school and the junior high school were guests of the Rotary club Monday at the Masonic temple. Dennis Ferrell and Wendell McCluskey represented the Dorrisville school. From the junior high school were the following students: Ruth Ann Bramlet, 7th grade; Rita Davenport, Libby Tanner, Sally Davenport, and Bob Arensman, all of the 8th grade.

D. H. Hiller was in charge of the program and he gave a talk on life insurance, stating that it has become to be known as the fourth necessity. In his talk, he mentioned that the Metropolitan Life Insurance company was the largest financial organization in the United States last year and is rated second this year. Mr. Hiller said that if the Harrisburg branch of the company was a separate insurance company and not connected with the Metropolitan company it would rank 312th in the nation out of over 1,000 insurance companies. He said that the Harrisburg office is composed of eight agents, an office cashier and himself serving all of White, Gallatin, Saline, and parts of Hardin and Williamson counties. Mr. Miller stated that insurance agents must be trained in many fields, such as Social Security, settling of estates, and must know something about the different types of businesses.

Next week each member of the club will have a boy or girl as their guest.

State to Boost Pension Grants

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Basic grants under old age, blind and disability assistance programs will be increased from $75 to $77 a month effective Jan. 1, the Illinois Public Aid Commission announced Monday.

The increase is required under an "escalator clause" in the public aid law which is pegged on the federal consumer price index. Expenses for medical care and special costs in old age aid to the blind are not covered by the ceiling on basic grants.

Horvath Leads Delegation From Assembly

Makes Clear Budapest Regime Not Quitting Membership

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Puppet Hungary walked out of the United Nations General Assembly today. It said it would stay out until the Hungarian question is taken off the agenda.

Imre Horvath, foreign minister of the Russian-supported Budapest regime, led his entire delegation out of the assembly at the start of this morning's session after a brief statement from the rostrum.

The assembly was debating a resolution sponsored by the United States and 18 other countries which would condemn Russia for its brutal suppression of the Hungarian revolt and call on the Soviet Union to get its troops out of Hungary under U. N. observation.

Horvath told the assembly its "continued efforts to intervene in the internal affairs" of his country was "incompatible with the sovereignty" of Hungary.

"The Hungarian delegation," he said, "came here to discuss fundamental international problems."

Still a Member

He made it clear that the Budapest regime was not withdrawing from U. N. membership. But he said they would remain out of the current 11th session of the General Assembly as long as the Hungarian situation is on the agenda.

Horvath led his colleagues into the delegates' lounge. There he and his aide, Endre Sie, told newsmen their further plans still had to be discussed.

The 18-nation resolution rejects Afro-Asian amendments that would cancel outright condemnation of the Soviet Union, informed sources said today.

The sources said the United States and its 16 co-sponsors would use only one phrase from amendments suggested by India, Burma, Ceylon and Indonesia.

That phrase notes the "overwhelming demand of the Hungarian people for the withdrawal of Soviet troops and the cessation of foreign intervention" in Hungary.

The 17 nations decided in a caucus Monday night to add the phrase to their own resolution rather than substitute it for two paragraphs as suggested by the four Asian nations. The 17-nation resolution was introduced Monday and is under debate.

Eight Persons Seized in Million Dollar Narcotics Raid in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Eight persons seized in a million dollar narcotics raid, largest in Chicago history, were questioned today by police who believe the arrests smashed a nationwide narcotics ring.

Among those arrested in the raid Monday night on two south side apartments was Willard Jones, 42, a city garbage truck driver, described by police as the ringleader. Confiscated were 15 pounds of almost pure heroin and 2 pounds of marijuana, said to be worth about one million dollars on the retail market. Equipment for "cutting" the drugs also was found, police said.

Capt. Joseph Healy of the narcotics squad, who directed the raid, said authorities had worked on the case for "three weeks," questioning informers and addicts.

Authorities refused to discuss a national tieup with the raid, but one detective said "there must be a national tieup because of the amount of stuff we found."

AWOL Soldier Held in Three Church Fires, One a 2 Million Dollar Blaze

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—A husky AWOL soldier was held on arson charges today in three church fires. One of them was a two million dollar conflagration he allegedly admitted setting in anger over being unable to open a poor box, police said.

Investigators also were questioning Pfc. Robert Whelan, 18, of Somerville, Mass., in connection with a fourth church fire.

Whelan, a 6-footer who had been living hand to mouth for nearly a month while absent without leave from Ft. Devans, Mass., was arrested late Monday in connection with the costly fire which destroyed St. John the Evangelist Catholic Church here Saturday.

"I did it because I was mad," Whelan was quoted as saying. Police said he robbed poor boxes for money to eat and became angry when he was frustrated in opening them.

The youthful soldier under questioning also admitted, police said, setting a $2,500 fire in St. Joseph's

Shuman Blames Farm Troubles On Legislation

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, said today that many troubles of U. S. farmers are caused by "too much legislation, rather than too little."

One of the principal causes of declining net income and of 25 years of recurring surpluses has been "attempts to solve economic troubles by political action," Shuman told the annual convention of the federation.

"I am convinced," he said, "that farmers would have received higher average prices for their total output of all commodities during the last five years if government supports had not, in effect, prevented price changes."

The secretary of agriculture should stop buying and storing farm commodities as soon as the Commodity Credit Corporation disposes of all the supplies now held of any particular commodity, Shuman said.

He said the government buying and storing of any crop should be ended when the supplies have been brought into balance and the free market restored to operation.

"There is no good reason for government to be engaged in the business of purchasing and storing farm commodities," Shuman said.

Find Auto Shortly After Theft

A teacher's car, stolen from in front of Harrisburg high school last night, was recovered a short time later.

Police Chief Ross Lane said Mrs. Thomas Murphy of Eldorado, HTHS faculty member, reported her car was stolen between 7 and 8:30 p. m.

Shortly after 9 a. m. city police found the car, a 1956 cream and blue Buick, on the parking lot at the rear of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church.

Lane said this is the third time a stolen car has turned up at this site, leading him to believe that the same boys have taken part in all the thefts.

India and The U. S. A.

Editorial — By BRUCE BOSSAT

A short time hence Prime Minister Nehru of India will be making his long-awaited visit to President Eisenhower. The chances are it will be considerably more productive than had it occurred
as originally planned last summer.

The chief difference is that relations between the United States and India are substantially improved over six months ago. Our course of action in the Middle East crisis is largely responsible for this improvement.

Indian newspapers assert with some delight that America appears to have moved away from the "colonial" powers, meaning Britain and France. The fact is, of course, that we have interests on both sides of the colonial issue. It just happens that the Eisenhower regime believes they do not lie with the British-French military moves in Suez.

However that may be, we can be gratified that our standing not only in India but in most of the Afro-Asian world is higher than it has been for more than a decade.

Against this brighter setting, Nehru and Mr. Eisenhower may have fruitful talks on the broad questions of peace and freedom in Asia and Africa, as well as on specific matters of American and Indian relations.

Fortified by his late-November
discussions with Premier Chou En-lai of Red China, Nehru will be able to give the President up-to-date views on the outlook for settlement of outstanding issues in the Far East. Later on, Nehru will see Chou again and can report first hand on Mr. Eisenhower's position.

There is no likelihood that even in the warmer atmosphere which now will prevail any effort will be made to persuade Nehru to abandon his neutralist path in favor of closer ties with the West. All evidence indicates such a move would be doomed to failure.

United States leaders seem to be convinced that India intends to remain neutral at all costs. The most Mr. Eisenhower might urge is that Nehru seek to exert his potential moral leadership more forcefully in the future than he did in the belated, foot-dragging

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Doubts Raised About Dumping Our Western Allies; Senator Kefauver Can't Quench
His Political Energy; Latin-Americans Don't Approve Of Our Asian-African Links.

WASHINGTON. — The new administration trend toward lining up with the Afro-Asian axis and letting western allies, if necessary, go down the drain, has caused serious debate not only in inner administration circles but in diplomatic circles.

Opposition inside Eisenhower's official family has come from Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and Gen. Al Gruenther, new head of the Red Cross, two of Ike's closest advisers.

Gruenther, as military leader of NATO, has always been a staunch supporter of western Europe, has differed drastically, though privately, with John Foster Dulles over erratic moves by the secretary of state which weakened the Atlantic alliance.

Secretary Humphrey has also interposed some quiet but firm advice that to upset the economy of England France would mean unemployment in the United States.

There have also been some unpleasant memories of what brought the Hoover depression in 1931 — namely, the collapse of European economy, first in the Credit Anstalt in Vienna, then in the capitals of western Europe,
until it swept across the Atlantic to send stocks crashing in Wall Street.

No one in administration circles
wants to risk any repeat performance. That's one reason why there will be no argument about waiving the $70,000,000 interest on Britain's postwar loan.

KEFAUVER ENERGY
Regardless of the outcome of the recent election, both Republicans and Democrats probably agree that the hardest campaign-er on either ticket was Sen. Estes Kefauver. Though Nixon also campaign tirelessly, he did not have to face advance primary elections. Kefauver, on the other hand, began campaigning last January, and kept going through the snows of Minnesota and the heat of California until the very end. He probably walked more city blocks, shook more hands than any candidate in history.

When he took his titian-haired wife Nancy and their four children for a holiday in Georgia,
most people expected him to relax. Mrs. Kefauver and the children, however, knew better.

"How are we going to keep dad busy?" the children asked their mother. "He won't be able to sit still on an island."

Young David solved the problem. He got his father up every morning at 5 to go hunting. They were vacationing on the island owned by Dick Reynolds of Reynolds Aluminum, off the coast of Georgia. It abounds in game, so the two Kefauver males shot wild turkeys while the rest of the family slept. Once they caught two raccoons, put one of them, a baby, in the Senator's coat by the sleeves together. Finally they let it go.

The restless senator got back to Washington this week, immediately flew back to Tennessee,
started another round of speeches.

GOOD NEIGHBORS WORRY
Latin-American diplomats, accustomed to being the tail on the North American kite and sometimes a bit bitter about it, are scrutinizing the administration's lean toward the Afro-Asian axis with concern.

Africa and Asia have been the top competitors of South America for years. They have been the chief disrupters of the good-neighbor policy, already badly tarnished. So if the United States now
times a bit bitter about it, are Latin-American diplomats
see, the good-neighbor policy pretly much coming to an end.

They point out that John Foster Dulles, Vice President Nixon, and UN Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge seem to forget in advising an American-Afro-Asian alliance what happened after Pearl Harbor. After Dec. 7, 1941, the American public walked because it had no rubber. It saved cans and toothpaste tubes because it had no tin. It frantically started cochine and sisal plantations in Central America because it had no quinine or hemp.

Never was the economic debacle of the United States so great,
Latin-American diplomats recall,
all because the United States had turned to Asia and Africa for the cheap tropical products raised by the cheap labor of an imperialist colonial system.

They also point out that distances between Africa and Asia are just as long today as they were in 1941-45. In fact, the route is even more difficult, as indicated by the closing of the Suez Canal and the huge Russian submarine fleet.

Some diplomats are even disagreeable enough to ask whether administration leaders have forgotten why Russia is building such a huge submarine fleet and why Bulganin and Khrushchev took such pains to visit the Middle East personally and invite every Asiatic-African leader of any importance to Moscow.

If you look down the list of commodities which Latin America sells to the U. S. A. you can readily understand why the diplomats are concerned. Chief competitor of Latin-American coffee is African and Asiatic coffee. Cocoa, the lifeblood of Ecuador, now gets stiff competition from Africa. On the price of cocoa frequently depends revolution in Ecuador. Bolivian presidents come and go, depending on the price of tin. Brazil's manganese has to compete with Indian man-ganese.

That's why the new Dulles-Nixon-Lodge plan of lining up with Asia and Africa is not going to win many friends among our so-called "good," but sometimes forgotten "neighbors."

CEMENT SHORTAGE
The United States faces the prospect of a cement shortage next year as a result of the huge highway construction program,
according to a survey of the House
Small Business committee.

The highway program will take 20,500,000 barrels of cement in '57 and will increase to 36,500,000
by 1960.

By 1960, the Small Business
Committee warns, the cement

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
Written for NEA Service

Souvenir shops abound all over the world. There is such a demand for mementoes that one might imagine that they were as vital as the items which we class as necessities.

We buy souvenirs to remind us of the places we have been, the moments and times which have been especially enjoyed and the experiences which have been different from everyday living.

The scene is constantly changing.
We want to hold on to a part of the past, and savor our memories in the present. Souvenirs furnish tangible ties between memory and momentary reality.

Religion is the strongest tie between experience and current living. God is not a souvenir. He is a real reminder of past experiences which influence daily living.
We ought to keep Him as our anchor instead of the trivia which merely reminds us of momentary pleasures.

Stevenson Back At Law Offices

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Adlai E. Stevenson, twice defeated Democratic presidential candidate, was back at work today in his LaSalle Street
law offices.

The rested and cheerful former Illinois governor said, however, he won't resume a full time work schedule as an attorney until after the first of the year.

Stevenson said he has "an infinite amount" of letter writing, some documents to study and "a magazine article or so" to occupy his time until then.

His Christmas holiday will be spent at home visiting and pheasant hunting with his sons, John Fell and Borden.

A pilot must shoot down at least five enemy planes to become an ace.

DAILY BIBLE THOUGHT

Rejoice with me for I have found
the sheep that was lost.—Luke 15: 6.

God values the humblest sinner.
Christ came to seek and save that which was lost. Dwight Moody found that really bad men could be made into good men. They must be sought. Don't give up on a bad boy.

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids
and to relieve pain—without surgery.
In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.
Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astounding statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"
The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.
This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H. At your

CHICAGO (U)—Two teen-agers were booked today on murder charges in the fatal beating of Malcolm Lee Beggs, 49, New York, an actor in the road company of the play "No Time For Sergeants."

Police said the youths, Robert Mitchell, 19, St. Louis, and Haskell R. Kellems, 16, Evansville, Ind., admitted slaying Beggs when he resisted their attempt to rob him.

The two were found in Beggs' blood-spattered apartment Monday when police investigated a complaint of a disturbance.

Britain Receives Half Billion From World Fund

Move Designed To Help Nation in Financial Crisis

WASHINGTON (UP)—Financially ailing Britain received a half-billion dollar shot in the arm today from the International Monetary Fund.

The fund also authorized a stand-by supplement of $738,530,000 that Britain may purchase in foreign currencies with pounds sterling any time in the next year.

Both moves — announced by the fund Monday night — are designed to help Britain meet its financial crisis caused by the blocking of the Suez Canal during the Anglo-French military strike in Egypt.

The fund announced it agreed to allow Britain to withdraw $561,470,000 "to add to the monetary reserves of the United Kingdom to meet payment requirements." The money was placed at Britain's "immediate disposal."

A fund spokesman said the money advanced to Britain is the most the fund has ever advanced to any of its member countries.

However, Rep. Wayne Hays (D-Ohio), a House Foreign Affairs Committee member, said Monday it would be "tragic" to ask U. S. taxpayers "to compensate for the lack of administration policy in the Near East" by financing a new foreign aid program.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), Senate Appropriations Committee member, appeared cool to Britain's request that the United States waive an $81 million interest payment this year on old debts. McClellan said he would "want assurances" that Britain would not work against the United States in the United Nations before voting for the waiver.

Ullin Man is Named Area Supervisor of Auto Investigators

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—Charles Bingham Jr., 34, Ullin, has been named supervisor of automobile investigators for the secretary of state's office in district eight in southern Illinois.

Bingham, named by Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter, succeeds Warren L. Montgomery, Fairfield, who recently was named chief automobile investigator. District eight includes 18 counties in the southernmost part of the state.

Air Search Centers on Silvertip Mountain for Missing Plane

VANCOUVER, B. C. (UP)—A report of an explosion on jagged Silvertip Mountain in a desolate area of British Columbia gave Canadian air force searchers their most promising lead today on the fate of 62 persons aboard a missing Trans-Canada Airlines plane.

Gordon Dowding, a member of the British Columbia Legislature, told air force search master George Sheehan that nine persons at a lodge near the mountain heard the blast Sunday night when the plane disappeared.

Sheehan said the lodge guests reported the incident to Dowding when the legislator appeared there about 8 p. m. Sunday. They heard the explosion about 50 minutes after last radio contact with the plane.

The Royal Canadian Air Force alerted about 10 planes to leave at dawn for Silvertip, a snow-covered 8,500-foot peak.

Three Dakotas (Canadian C47s) searched through Monday without luck and the air force had to cancel an overnight hunt because of clouds.

"It's no use sending them up," a spokesman said Monday night. Radar contact with the missing plane was lost near Silvertip. If growing fears that 46 men border stream to freedom. Then, there's the seven-member Goebel family. Janos, the father, is 38 for 14 years a physical education instructor at the University of Miskolc. He fought against the Communist AVH secret police in Miskolc after the AVH had fired into a group of high school students, killing 15.

It was "a terrible thing" that happened on Oct. 26 in front of AVH headquarters in Miskolc, a city of 200,000, Goebel said. The night before, a few men started to Budapest "to help the people fight." The police stopped them and took 50 men to jail.

Tells of Slaughter Next day, between 300 and 400 high school pupils gathered and shouted: "Let those men out." The police told the students to go home. Goebel was watching, with others, a little more than 100 yards away. The students refused to go. The police, he says, opened up with rifles and threw grenades, killing 15.

Onlookers phoned workers from nearby mines, who were on strike. The miners, about 90 of them, came by truck and dynamited open the back doors of the headquarters. Entering, the miners threw rifles out of the windows to about 50 citizens who entered the front doors. A mob of 3,000 gathered, and about 10 police who tried to escape were caught and beaten and kicked to death. Four were hanged from a Russian statue.

In the battle inside, Goebel says, armed citizens went from floor to floor, cleaning out every room. Between 20 and 25 AVH men were shot.

Mrs. Charles Wiggins Dies at Eldorado

Mrs. Lucy Wiggins, 70, who lived at 724 Big Four street in Eldorado, died this morning at the Ferrell hospital.

She is survived by her husband, Charles; one brother, Hugh Maxwell of Dexter, Mo., and three granddaughters she raised, Mrs. Margaret Ann Hopson of Equality, Mrs. Betty Sue Wathen of Gary, Ind., and Mrs. Shirley Overton of Eldorado. Also she had three great-grandchildren.

The body will be moved to the family home at 10 a. m. tomorrow from the Martin funeral home.

Inquest Wednesday In Henry Wright Death

County Coroner James Thornton announced today he would hold an inquest Wednesday into the death of Henry B. Wright, resident of the Dallas area, community who died Sunday afternoon.

The inquest will be held Wednesday at 10 a. m. at the city hall in Carrier Mills.

Analysts Predict Economy to Climb

CHICAGO (UP)—Most business analysts predict a 5 to 6 per cent climb in the total output of the American economy next year, the Federal Reserve Bank said today. In its monthly review, the bank said that only a few experts foresee an economic slump for 1957. It reported that both government outlays and business capital expenditures are expected to rise moderately. The banking firm said that even the lagging spending on housing may climb slightly.

Anti-Soviet Riots By Polish Youths

WARSAW (UP)—Hundreds of Polish students clashed with police and troops in anti-Soviet demonstrations Monday night in the western Polish city of Stettin, Radio Warsaw said today.

The students smashed windows in the Soviet consulate, tried to force their way into the building and overturned streetcars as barricades as they beat off workers militia units called to quell the riots.

Warsaw Radio said army troops finally were sent into the battle to put down the demonstrations.

Warsaw Radio said the youths were "hooligans" and that they struck to the accompaniment of drunken singing and provocative shouts.

But a later broadcast admitted the street brawl reached the dimensions of a "mass demonstration" against the Soviet Union.

The demonstrators pushed streetcars on their sides—as the Hungarian freedom fighters had done—and fought from behind them when workers militia units rushed to the scene from nearby shipyards. "Serious clashes" resulted.

IPAC to Drop 3,597 Persons From Relief Rolls

CHICAGO (UP)—An Illinois Public Aid Commission official has announced 3,597 persons will be dropped from state relief rolls within the next 60 days.

Gershon Hirwitz, chief of the commission's office of methods and training, said Monday the cut will save the state about $200,000 per month.

He said the persons to be dropped were classified as "employable" and were being cut because of a shortage of relief funds and a favorable employment situation.

The commission is expected to seek a deficiency appropriation of nearly 38 million dollars from the 1957 Legislature.

Farmers Face Yes-No Decision On Corn Program

URBANA, Ill. (UP)—Illinois corn farmers face a "yes" or "no" vote decision today to determine which of two price support programs they want for the next three years.

One of the programs, the acreage allotment plan, dates back to the pre-soil bank days last spring. It calls for a decrease in acreage allotments to farmers in proportion to the increase in corn supply.

The other, the base acreage program, calls for substituting acreage allotments with base acreage. It allows farmers to grow a larger acreage of corn and still receive price supports. The price support level declines under the acreage allotment program as the corn supply gets bigger.

Under the acreage allotment program the price support level, according to the University of Illinois, would be $1.36 a bushel in 1957. Under continued acreage allotment rulings, if the corn supply increases, the allotments will get progressively smaller, the university reported. It said the price support rate also would be reduced.

Under the base acreage alternative the price support level would be $1.31 a bushel, the university said. To qualify for support a farmer would have to put land equal to 15 per cent of his corn base acreage into the soil bank.

University agricultural experts said they believed Illinois farmers have been schooled enough to be familiar with both programs and their consequences.

American Envoy Evicted from Home in Londo.

LONDON (UP)—An American diplomat has been evicted from his London home because his landlord considers the United States "despicable" for failing to back the Anglo-French invasion of Egypt, it was reported today.

Maj. Eugene Sabatini, assistant U. S. air attache here, was ordered to move out of the house he occupied for two years. He received the eviction notice in a letter from rent collector Maurice G. Holt, which said:

"In view of the despicable conduct of the United States and the consequent profound contempt that I, in common with many millions of my fellow countrymen feel for that country and its nationals, I am not prepared to allow an American to occupy any property over which I have control."

Death Sentence Of Woman Slayer Is Commuted

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Gov. George N. Craig has commuted the death sentence of Mrs. Opal Collins, 26, convicted slayer of four persons and the first woman in Indiana history condemned to the electric chair.

Arizin Leads Pro Cage Scorers

NEW YORK (AP)—Pitchin' Paul Arizin, the ex-Marine scoring star of the Philadelphia Warriors, took over the undisputed scoring lead in the National Basketball Association today on the strength of 58 points in his last two games.
Arizin, the 1952 scoring champ, started the week deadlocked with teammate Neil Johnston, also a former scoring champion, for the top rung.
But now Arizin is alone on top with a total of 489 points to 477 for Johnston. Defending champion Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks stood third with 459, nipping Clyde Lovellette of the Minneapolis Lakers who had 458.

While all of us are shivering in the cold Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Lee, formerly of Galatia, are basking in the Florida sunshine. Sounds good.
Monday I received a letter from Lee, written in Ft. Lauderdale.
He states he has been operating water ski schools in Florida since Sept. 1, hustling right on down south after closing a school he operated at a Lake of the Ozarks resort.
He has two schools going at present in Ft. Lauderdale, one at the Blue Water Hotel and another at the Casa Glameretta Apts. "I furnish skiing exhibitions daily at the Blue Water Hotel, for entertainment of their dinner guests," Lee states.
He is also doing promotional work for the Kiekhaefer Co., makers of the Mercury outboard motor.
Late in August of this year Lee established a new endurance record, skiing a total of 682 miles in 24 hours, 45 minutes, over a circular course on the Lake of the Ozarks.
Mrs. Lee, music instructor in the Galatia high school, resigned the position shortly after school started to join her husband in the water skiing schools in Florida.

The upset wave rolled on through the college basketball ranks today, adding Kentucky, Notre Dame, and Cincinnati to the list of surprise victims and piling more woe on the "experts' heads."
St. Louis, rudely bounced out of the national rankings itself by Ohio State only last Saturday, came right back Monday night to nip Kentucky, 71-70 — only the third home-court loss that Kentucky has suffered in the last 13 years.
Northwestern, beaten twice in a row, turned on Notre Dame, 75-60, at South Bend, Ind.—Northwestern's first win over the Irish since 1949.
Tennessee whipped Cincinnati, 76-68—the second loss in three games in a poor start for a Cincinnati club figured to be among the strongest of Midwest independents.
Kentucky Fades
Kentucky, elevator to the No. 7 national ranking this week on the strength of its easy conquest of Temple last week, shot out to a six-point lead in the first four minutes against St. Louis. It looked like a runaway, but that was as far as the Wildcats could go.
Kentucky led 69-67 with two minutes left when Jack Minitz hit a basket for St. Louis and Harold Alcorn boosted the Billikens' margin to 71-66 with a pair of free throws. Kentucky nabbed one last basket, but then St. Louis stalled out the clock. Minitz had 23 points and Alcorn 24.
The upset wave failed to touch two other high-ranked teams playing Monday night. Western Kentucky, ranked 12th nationally, pushed its record to 3-0 with a 95-74 romp over New Mexico A&M and Indiana, ranked 17th, scored seven points in the last two minutes to beat Butler, 73-68, although Butler ace Ted Gusek outscored big Hoosier center Archie Dees, 25-24.
Maryland Whips Deacons
In other leading games Monday night: Maryland took the lead after 11 minutes and held it thereafter to beat Wake Forest, 59-53, in an Atlantic Coast Conference game; Nebraska added a third Big Ten scalp to its belt with a 53-51 decision over Wisconsin with Don Smith's field goal the deciding margin; Loyola of the South nipped Texas A&M, 71-68, as Pete Gaudin scored 26 points.
Rice trounced Louisiana State, 87-72, as 6-10 Temple Tucker scored 23 points and 6-9 Tom Robitaille added 20; Duquesne downed St. Francis, Pa., 73-61; Navy beat Roanoke, 76-61; Texas Tech edged Tulsa, 66-61; Oklahoma A&M stopped Arkansas, 59-50; Texas Christian crushed McMurry, 97-50; Baylor beat North Texas State, 71-58; and Colorado downed Colorado A&M, 70-49.
SMU, the nation's No. 4 team, will be tested tonight by Wichita while North Carolina State, rated 12th, visits Clemson.

Sales Brisk, But Seats Available For Globetrotters

The Harlem Globetrotters with their fine basketball and variety show will be in Harrisburg Thursday evening and it is reported ticket sales are brisk and a large attendance is indicated.
However, there still are plenty of tickets available and may be purchased in advance at Huck's Barbershop, Karnes Hardware or Jackson's Drugs in Harrisburg or Walker's Jewelry in Carrier Mills.
And tickets will be on sale at Davenport gymnasium the night of the game.
Student tickets, in advance, are just 90 cents, but there will be no student tickets available at the door. General admission tickets at the door will be $1.50 for both adults and students, it has been announced. Reserved seats are $2.
A full 2½ hour program, including Globetrotter basketball and outstanding variety acts will be on tap.
Included on the star-studded Globetrotter roster is Oliver Rollins, former high scoring Carrier Mills high school ace.

Cubs Buy Silveira From Yankees

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs added a second catcher in less than 24 hours to their roster today, buying Charlie Silveira from the New York Yankees for cash and two minor league players to be delivered later.
Silveira, 32, was waived out of the American League in order for the deal to go through. He had been with the Yankees for eight years, and has a lifetime major league batting average of .291. But in 1956, he appeared in only seven games and hit .222 in nine times at bat.

Baseball World Pays Tribute to Mrs. Comiskey

CHICAGO (AP)—Baseball executives from around the nation, gathered here for their winter meetings, today paid tribute to the memory of Mrs. Grace Comiskey, 62, late president of the Chicago White Sox.
Mrs. Comiskey died Monday in her apartment here of a heart attack. She had been in poor health for several years, and suffered a minor heart attack six years ago.
Services for Mrs. Comiskey will be held Thursday morning. Mass will be said at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery in Evanston.
Flowers from baseball leaders and friends filled the funeral chapel and many of the baseball executives are expected to pay their respects to Mrs. Comiskey today and Wednesday.
Meanwhile, Roy Egan, legal counsel for the Comiskey family, said no successor to Mrs. Comiskey as president of the White Sox is expected to be named for a year.

SIU Defeats Midwestern U. 72-67 in Overtime

Southern Illinois University defeated Midwestern University of Wichita Falls, Tex., 72-67 Monday night in a see-saw battle that wound up in overtime play.

The lead changed hands five times during the game. Midwestern was out in front with a slim 27-26 edge at halftime. It led with only 25 seconds left in the game when Larry Whitlock, SIU forward, sank a short jump shot to give his team a 59-59 tie.

In the overtime center Marvin Jones tipped in a basket to put SIU in front to stay. Whitlock took scoring honors with 19 points, while Roy Kieval and Carl Lane led Midwestern with 15 points apiece.

The delicious difference you taste is Mountain Grown Coffee!

In every steaming cup of Folger's, you enjoy a noticeably finer flavor—distinctively rich, unusually tangy. Because Folger's is a unique blend of nature's choicest coffee—grown in remote mountain regions, where there is an abundance of fertile volcanic soil, warm tropic sunlight and rain.

This rare mountain coffee is conceded to have the most satisfying tang and flavor of any coffee known today.

And this is the rewarding flavor that comes to you in Folger's! It's Mountain-Grown coffee. You'll call it delicious.

So much richer in flavor that you are urged to use 1/4 less than with lesser flavored brands.

10-Player 'Even' Deal Between Cardinals, Cubs

CHICAGO — Executives of major league baseball turned toward minor league problems in a joint session of American and National League magnates.

They were expected to approve a proposal by the minor leagues to force major league teams to cut their rosters to 28 players by the opening day of the season, thus establishing the minor league line-ups a month earlier than usual.

They also were expected to accept a suggestion by the minor leagues that the annual major league meetings in the future be held in alternate years in a minor league city.

One Trade Made

Only one trade resulted Monday from dozens of conversations by the major league clubs during the only day in which the two big leagues held separate business meetings.

The Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Cardinals exchanged 10 players in an "even" deal under which left hander Jackie Collum and right hander Tom Poholsky replace left hander Jim Davis and right hander Sam Jones on the Cubs roster.

In addition, catcher Hobie Landrith and infielder-outfielder Eddie Miksis shift to the Cardinals in return for catcher Ray Katt. The Cubs also obtained Willie Lam-mers, a shortstop-second baseman, for the Los Angeles farm club, and two AAA players to be selected before March 1.

Rule Changes Made

Both leagues made rules changes in their meetings. The American League voted to authorize a three game playoff, in case of a pennant tie, instead of the current one-game regulation.

The league, however, got no chance to vote after a long discussion of inter-league games, to count in the standings, during the summer when sponsor Hank Greenberg of Cleveland withdrew his proposal.

The National League changed its rules to provide that in the future all suspended, postponed or tie games be played in the city in which originally scheduled. They also voted that the second game of Sunday doubleheaders can be started under lights after 6 p. m. local time, if permitted by law.

During the past 10 years the automotive industry produced 13 billion dollars' worth of defense products.

Day of the Outlaw

Dan looked over the man's shoulder to Ernie, who now watched them closely, her face a picture of conflicting emotions. He spoke to Hiatt. "I'll be at the Preston place. Follow the snow path along the lumber yard fence to the back door. I'll be waiting."

Dan followed the snow trenches along to the livery stable and saloon, across to the lumber yard and then to the Preston home. So there was something between Ernie and Hiatt. An idea hit him and his eyes narrowed. Maybe this was the way the outlaws had discovered Vivian had a hidden gun. Ernie would not want Hiatt to be hurt and so . . . betrayal made an ugly taste in Dan's mouth.

He was close to anger when Hiatt knocked softly on the door. Dan crossed the room and opened it. Hiatt stepped in and looked cautiously about.

"No one here?" Hiatt asked.

"No one," Dan snapped.

Hiatt took off his hat and dropped it on the floor, unbuttoned his coat and stood uncertainly for a moment before pulling out a chair and sitting down.

"I'm in love with Ernie Frazin, that's the whole thing, Murdock." Once the words came, he spoke fast as if afraid to take a breath. "It don't make sense and I know I don't deserve someone like her. I'm sure she loves me, too. But I ride the owl trail and I won't come to any good end, and I couldn't ever ask any honest, good girl to follow me."

He gulped, looked frightened and fell silent, but his eyes watched Dan with deep longing and hope.

"You're an outlaw, Hiatt. That's something a man chooses deliberately."

Hiatt's fist banged on the table. "But I didn't choose it! It was forced on me." He saw Dan's eyebrow lift and he leaned back, began to speak more calmly. "I guess it's an old story. Paw and I had a small spread, but it was a good one. Trouble was it lay right between two big ranches and they both wanted it, while at the same time they fought among themselves."

He stopped, seemed to gather his balance and his voice continued at a dead level. "Then they caught Paw in town one Saturday and first thing he knew they whipped him into a corner in a saloon so it looked like he'd started a fight. He didn't have a chance against the best gunslinger in the whole country." He added in a whisper. "We buried him beside Mother two days later."

"I tried to keep the place going. Then I began to miss cows and I finally caught a couple of Bar O rannies working over one of my calves. I lost my head and the fireworks started. I took a slug in the shoulder but I killed one of 'em and the other one didn't walk for a long time."

Dan stared. Suddenly a new hope burst in his chest.

"What then?" Dan asked.

Hiatt jerked slightly and then looked around with a crooked smile. "Why, I found out how easy it was to become an outlaw. You protect your own property but the gent who couldn't walk said I murdered his partner and tried to kill him."

"You can figure how I felt. The ranch gone and I was tagged for murder, had to keep running. The shoulder healed up but by then I had no use for law and order—it hadn't done much for me. I met this bunch in Colorado."

"Joined up," Dan said.

"Why not?" Hiatt demanded. "I couldn't see much difference between being an outlaw and being accused of being one."

Dan nodded slowly. "And now?" Hiatt leaned across the table, his face eager and pleading. "Look Murdock, I helped hold up that bank in Colorado. I held the horses, nothing more, but I know that's no excuse. I rode in here with 'em, and I can be branded for what they've done already."

"Is there any chance of turning back, Murdock? Could I do something to get rid of the outlaw brand? I'm in love with Ernie, I tell you. I'd give my right arm to be able to go to her, clean, and ask her to marry me. Is there a chance?"

"I'd say so," Dan nodded slowly. Hiatt's hand suddenly grasped Dan's wrist.

Starrett walked along the street by the barbershop, mounted the steps to the saloon.

The big room was warm and most of the outlaws were here. Starrett was pleased. Now was the time to make the deal and then fade into the background so that he himself could never be touched. Bruhn sat at a table with that pale-faced killer who looked like a kid. Starrett thumbed his hat back and walked to them.

Bruhn looked up, nodded briefly. Pace's pale eyes flicked over Starrett with something akin to contempt.

Starrett pulled out a chair and sat down before Bruhn could protest. "That proposition I made you. There's not much time left to wait."

He heard a move beside him and twisted his head to look up. Tex Darrow had come from the bar and he stood close by, looking steadily at Bruhn.

"Jack, you ain't passing up some business without telling us about it?"

"It's penny ante," Bruhn said heavily. Tex glanced at Pace, then shook his head.

"Maybe we'd better hear about it." He sat down beside Starrett. Bruhn slowly drew back and his big face had become grainite hard. Pace watched, expressionless. Starrett looked a question at Bruhn, who nodded slightly.

"Say your piece."

Rev. A. D. Van Hoose of Evansville, former Harrisburg minister, will speak this evening at the First Apostolic church, 1250 South Grand street, on "The Threat of War in the Middle East."

Rev. Van Hoose, who has traveled in the Middle East, will tell of his visit in the area and of the preparations for war he saw while on the trip.

Every foot of exploratory hole drilled last year cost oil men an average of $24.30.

To somebody on the moon, the earth would look 80 times as bright as the moon does to us.

About three-fourths of all oil wells drilled in the United States since 1859 have proved productive.

Seventy-three per cent of American families now own automobiles compared with about 50 per cent in 1940.

The nation's steel-making capacity has increased 40 per cent in the past 10 years and 1955 production was 117 million tons, an increase of 76 per cent over 1946.

Barge shipment of coal in the ports of New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Chicago totals around 25 million tons a year, according to recent statistics.
